MAJ.-GEN. HUGHES AND MR. D. A THOMAS

By H. F. G.

The run-in between Gunda's War Lord, Major General Sir San Hughes and David Lloyd George's special ambassador, Mr. D. A. Thomas, is still the chief topic of discussion at the capital. The opinion is freely expressed that if it weren't a case of outwelling Sir Ssu, has the millionaire Welshman been a statesman? "The San talks that nothing will be said because he has said it all. On the other hand, Mr. Thomas solid gains and fifty lire. He kept also explained, over several lunches at the Claretto Laurier, how particularly the metonymy and specific particularity they were that early in the night men should get contracts—in fire fuel how much more profitable than they were before the war and a short time after it started when the price of fuel was woefully inflated. For a while it was a grab all but got that a Purchasing Committee had been practices keeping his own counsel. The misunderstanding seems to have grown out of a wrong notion entertained by the Major General as to what Mr. Thomas' mission in Canada really was.

The Major General believed that Mr. Thomas had come to Canada to do some business, and that his instructions were to investigate conditions. That the misunderstanding still exists, is shown by the latest words of the two disputants. Sir John A. Macdonald, Mr. Thomas' first interview, was not a pleasant one, five times as much as the day now, and that Mr. Thomas has not won a dollar's worth of orders since he arrived. To which Mr. Thomas replied, "What Canadian would do that?"

Although the Major General and the British Minister—if one may call Mr. Thomas that—are at cross purposes, the chances are that both will get their share of the same ground.

The suggestion is made that Sir Sam may be "trying tactics." This is a faint attack on Mr. Thomas. The first reason for Sir Sam's attitude is that he has been drawn attention from weakness in another part of his line. While Sir Sam kneels the stalling out of the straw nan the real offender slips away under cover of dusk. The second reason is that Sir Sam is a miser. Whenever you find him barking up the wrong tree, you may find him barking up as a military manoeuvre. His slanders, if any, are well contrived to make the other man look like a man of precipitate honesty, which rushes in where more time-servers fear to tread. No trace suits his mouth or coarsens him out of the faintest as the Chief Patriot. In short the Major goes to his hole and lets the other man's people to invade politics they were playing in the morning if you would put it over Sam Hughes.

Mr. Thomas would appear to have been not asking Sir Sam how he would like to be treated, but how he would have done this with Sir Sam out of the country for the greater part of his visit is hard to tell. In this dilemma, with the man who knew it all, three thousand miles away from the situation, it is not surprising that he decided to lord George's name as the most plausible way to follow instructions which he proceeded to do in that art form, British wit which buckles every one's knees at a corner and then makes life in the future.

The numerous friends of Rev. H. M. Healdson will regret to hear that he has been compelled to relinquish his pastorate to take effect early in the new year, after four years at St. John's Church, on account of his continued ill health. Mr. Healdson has made many friends in Claresholm, and his going to Claresholm and his self-sacrificing work will long be remembered.

As an investigator Mr. Thomas struck angry weather. The air smelt of sulphur. The clouds were black. The people Accounts Committee, and the world wide came from the direction of Manitoba. Something of this Mr. Thomas must have sniffed in the air. He could hardly get any more out of the people. He was broken to show him the moral side of Canadian war politics. They pointed his pride to the chairman, the Hon. E. Kemp, the great uplifter, who had said that they were not to make the business out of the mine of embled by those who knew him best. At the meeting of the church held last night a most interesting and profitable session was held. The effect that the church registered the resignation of the Rector and expressions of appreciation with regard to the success of the work under his direction were heard. On the part of the people, and the Rev. Mr. Henderson carry with them the best of wishes and hopes for their future welfare and success.

Wounded—Conjunctivitis

All Chesham was started last Thursday evening, when the news reached here through the Calgary papers, that Private F. L. Connor had been wounded. This was the second name from Chesham to be mentioned in the casualty list. F. Connor, having been medically killed previously, was the first name from Chesham to appear in the casualty list. He was a member of the Chesham Club of Commerce, staff here at the time of his enlistment in the 31st Battalion last November. Scarcely had the town fully realized the situation when it received another shock on Monday, the 21st, that E. E. Callahan had been killed in action. Louis Connor, also a member of the Chesham Club of Commerce, was mentioned in the casualty list. 31st Battalion at the same time as F. L. Connor. Yesterday another cloud of despair passed over the town, when the news reached here that Arthur J. Groves had also been killed in action. A. J. Groves was a member of the Chesham Club of Commerce, and was in the town at the same time as the two boys from the Bank of Commerce mentioned above.

Claresholm Branch of Canadian Patriotic Fund

The Executive Committee met on Tuesday afternoon of this week. It was arranged that the Branch attend to the canvas of the Clarendon school district including Clarendon town and it was arranged that $1,000.00 should be the low water mark of collections aimed at before the First of September 1916 for this School distdict. Five collectors were appointed and a sub-committee was also appointed to sub-divide the district and appoint other five collectors. It was also resolved to recommend that a general organization meeting be held as soon as possible to coincide with the visit to Claresholm of some prominent speaker. It was reported that Gran unorganized this week and that Wm. Moffatt M. P. P. would be at once proceeding to organize the constituency by school districts.

It was the feeling of the committee that they should depend on a personal canvas for the raising of funds, so that entertainments would not have to be held for the benefit of the fund.

Annual Chicken-Pie Supper

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church, held their annual Chicken-Pie supper in the parlors of the church, where nothing had been left undone to make the affair an undoubted success. A large crowd patronized the tables which were tastefully decorated

Annual Town and School Meeting to be Held Monday

The annual Town Meeting for the town of Clarendon will be held at council chamber, Monday evening at eight o'clock, when it will be necessary to nominate three councillors to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of J. A. Mitchell, J. B. Boese and C. W. James.

Of the first two, we would suggest that they be returned to office without opposition. J. A. Mitchell, who is an engineer and contractor, of no special experience has had charge of the water system, which he has handled with such efficiency that we make no hesitation in making the above recommendation. J. B. Besse's work on the light committee is too well known to need any comment, but we do believe the house would do well to see that Mr. Besse would fill his old seat on the council for another year. Of Major C. W. James we would say that we should like very much, if it were possible, to see him elected again. But owing to his absence, in doing his share for the country, it will be necessary that another councillor be elected to fill this vacancy.

In connection with the above meeting the annual school meeting will also be held, at which nominations will be open for school trustees to succeed C. E. Tiltonson and G. Simpson, whose terms expire this year. Having seen a good deal of the work in connection with the school board the past year, we believe that the way both Mr. Simpson and Mr. Tiltonson have executed their work on the above board warrants that they both be re-elected.

The above meetings are both of a vital importance to every ratepayer and it is hoped that everyone will show their interest in town and school affairs, by their attendance Monday evening.

PATRIOTIC TEA AND DANCE

The Ladies' Patriotic Aid gave an afternoon tea in the Parish Hall, where besides providing refreshments a very appropriate program was rendered. Two especially pleasing numbers on the program was the rendition of the solo "Tipperary" by Miss Arlene Reinecke and a recitation by Miss Marieje Leake.

Among other numbers on the program, were solos by Mrs. B. F. Sleeves, Miss E. Knight, Miss G. Edwards, and George Tollington. Instrumental solos were given by the Misses J. Tillotson and M. Harvey. In the evening the ladies gave a dance which was attended by a goodly number and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Altogether the day may be said to have been very successful, the ladies having cleared something over forty dollars for the patriotic fund.

The Eleventh Annual Municipal Convention Held at Bassano

The eleventh annual convention of Alberta Municipalities was held at Lussano Wednesday and Thursday of last week, when there were about fifty delegates in attendance, from cities, towns and villages from all over the province.

During the two day's very interesting program, papers on the following subjects were read: "Methods of dealing with tax arrears", "Unemployment", "Uniformity of auditing", "Taxation and checking accounts".

of Trade and Municipal Councils."

On the first afternoon of the convention T. M. Tweedie, M. P. P. of Calgary, gave a Patriotic Address, which was enjoyed by every delegate. The last day of the convention, the following officers for 1915-1916 were elected: Patrons, Hon. A. I. Sifton, Hon. C. W. Ross, Hon. Chas. Mitchell and W. Garriep, Chas. Kinnard, J. E. Mitcheur, M. P. P., Hon. President, W. D. L. Hardie, Methbridge; President, Mayor Costello of Calgary; First Vice-president, Mayor N. G. Holmes, Claesholm; Second Vice-president, A. Hawthorne, Medicine Hat.

The Hat; Secretary, A. W. G. Allen, Red Deer. A council of seven members from towns and villages was also appointed.

On the evening of the last day of the convention the delegates were tendered a very sumptuous banquet by the town of Bassano. The next meeting will be held at Edmonton.

TO START HONOR ROLL

It is the intention of the Review to start an Honor Roll in which will be placed the names of all soldiers who have enlisted from Claresholm and vicinity. As the list is a long one and without the co-operation of everyone some are apt to be missed so we would appreciate it very much if you will send us the names of all soldiers whom you know of as enlisting from this district; together with the Battalion or regiment to which they belong.

Mrs. Willey Dies Suddenly

During J. D. McIntyre's absence at Calgary, R. Gillis who is employed by McIntyre, twelve miles east of Jarvisburg went to the house Friday evening about 7:30 and found Mrs. L. Willey, housekeeper for Mr. McIntyre lying dead on the floor. Inspector R. E. Tucker was notified and accompanied by Dr. B. F. Steevens went out and examined the body. The following morning Inspector Tucker held the coroner's investigation and rendered a verdict of cause of death due to heart failure. Mrs. Willey's husband having been employed by McIntyre until about six weeks ago when he was taken sick and sent to Calgary where he underwent operation and died. The body was sent to Calgary Monday where the funeral took place Tuesday.

Course Meets with Bad Accident

Nurse Melbourne, who has been at the home of N. Lepage for some time, met with a very serious accident Friday evening. She was in company with Miss Symmonds, to whose home she was going to nurse the two cases typhoid fever there. After driving at about one-half mile the horse became frightened of some fire beside the road and started to kick and run away, and eventually broke the front end axle of the buggy, throwing Miss Melbourne, who was holding to the top, forward in such a manner as to dislocate her arm from the socket. Miss Melbourne was carried to the home of Wm. Barr, after the accident, and later moved to the home of Geo. Lepage, east of town, where she is now lying in a very serious condition, under the doctor's care.

Bostonians in "Tipperary Mary"

On next Saturday evening the Famous Bostonian Girls will present "Tipperary Mary," that musical play which was first played by the eminent actor, Mr. Chas. A. Alcott. In this musical play the audience will see the story of the Emerald, that which there are none sower nor better, and as a love story it maintains sufficient sentiment to lead to the end of the Emerald.

Naturally, the dialogue is replete with a vast amount of local wit and humor to which Miss Billie O'Neill as "Marty" and her merry colleagues do great justice. Again, Patie Hellen and Dixie White will be seen in the leading comedy roles and these two brilliant comedians dispense so infectious a lot of jollity that the most blasé must forget himself and enjoy two hours of genuine pleasure. The Misses Ina Mitchell, Thom Hellen, Marie Hill, Grace McChlor, Lola Fox, Lila Duff and these other versatile young ladies are cast in well chosen roles which are delineated with that youthful enthusiasm as to maintain their freedom as being the most popular company on tour.

Miss Thom Hellen, with the Bostonians in "Tipperary Mary," at I. O. O. F. Hall, one night, Saturday, October 30.

Specially prepared scenery depicting scenes of the Emerald Empire is carried by the Bostonians for this truly high production.

Altogether, these famous girls in an established play, heard of, containing special scenic and lighting effects; "Tipperary Mary" will prove to be the most interesting success that has ever been in Clareholm. The management of the I.O.O.F. Hall desires everyone should make an effort to come and enjoy this company next Saturday night and the last chance for a long time.

Agricultural Instruction Act

There has been issued at Ottawa the first report of the work accomplished by the provinces under the provisions of the Agricultural Instruction Act.

visions of the Agricultural Instruction Act. It is entitled "Report of Agricultural Instruction Act, 1914-15" and contains a full statement of the scope and nature of the measure followed by a review, in nine sections, of the work done in each province. A section also is devoted to the veterinary colleges of Canada, toward which $20,000 a year is granted. Another section covers the subjects of "Agricultural Education in Manitoba," "Agricultural Instruction in Belgium," "School Consolidation" and other matters including a list, briefly explained, of the United States federal appropriations for agricultural instruction. The report shows, among other things, that one hundred and fifty-five permanent instructors, professors, supervisors, directors, demonstrators and many assistants, have been appointed by the various provinces and are being provided for, through the Agricultural Instruction Act. In addition, a large number of magnificent buildings have been erected from these funds throughout Canada. The report embodies one hundred and forty-five pages of text in addition to sixteen pages illustrating the buildings constructed. The report shows that the work done by each province is varied according to local needs and conditions. Much of it, however, is common to all the provinces and varies only in the method by which it is carried out. It is being distributed to applicants by the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

Meadow Creek

Everyone is busy stacking in the vicinity.

An Auction Sale was held at D. A. McKinnon's ranch Tuesday, at which an estray cow was sold.

J. L. Cotter, our congenial postmaster returned Tuesday, after spending the week in Calgary.

Hills Breezes

Baird Bros. have about completed their threshing for the season.

It is rumored that there is to be a new house go up in the neighborhood. Look out boys for the social times in the store for the winter.

Stacking is completed in this district with the exception of an odd pile.

Geo. Fletcher manager of the Porcupine Hay Co. has completed his season's work and is now preparing to start the new barn at Lonely Ranch.

Brown Bros. the fly mare the neighborhood, seems to be getting pretty gay on the good feed of the hills, but will soon come down carrying two instead of one.

STAVELY

Rev. Henderson, of Clansholm conducted Church of England service in the Presbyterian Church here last Sunday.

R. Alexander, manager of the Western Elevator here met with a very nasty accident Monday morning two of his fingers being crushed while unloading a load of wheat into his elevator.

Frank Keizer, manager of the Farmers Elevator here met with what might have been a very serious accident, Monday climbing up a box car which was in motion he was struck by the projecting eaves of a coal shed, he was quite badly squared and thrown to the ground, though very fortunately not seriously injured.

The chief topic of discussion is the weather and the progress of threshing, the former could not be better, and the latter is making rapid progress in consequence, some enormous yields, even for this country, are reported, and in fact everyone seems to have one of the best crops ever grown. Business has been remarkable since harvest commenced, and we look for a busy winter.

The air is full of patriotism, especially along the line of the Patriotic Fund. J. Glendinning M. P. P. for this riding is expected here Tuesday evening for organization purposes. The ladies of the Red Cross branch here are very active, and purpose carrying an energetic campaign towards raising funds for the purchase of articles for this noble institution.

The town secretary attended the Convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities held in Bassano last week. He reports the Convention as being most successful and instructive, many very useful papers were read dealing with matters relating to Municipal Government, and the discussion brought out was most interesting, but the keynote of the whole Convention was economy in the administration of Municipal affairs.

The town has completed the installation of stock scales in connection with the C. P. R. Stock Yards. It is intended to erect a shed over these, so as to completely shelter them from the weather. This is felt to be a good move on the part of our town council, in the lack of proper weighing facilities for shipments of stock at this point has been the means of diverting a good share of this business which should naturally be tributary to Stavely, to other points.

An estimate of the amount of grain stacked so far this year, gives the fair sum of 300,000 bushels, this is thought to represent in the neighborhood of 30 per cent of the crop. A large number of the farmers are holding the best of their grain in granaries, and are only selling sufficient to pay up current expenses. So far the delivery of grain has been steady, and the bulk of the shipments will be kept up steadily and regularly on into next summer. So far there has been no scarcity of cars or elevator room.

Miss Hayward of the Clansholm Agricultural School was here on the twelfth for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Women's Institute. Mrs. Linton; second vice-pres. Mrs. Clark; secretary, Mrs. Grestum; auditors, Mrs. Danes, Ditto and Cressman. The first Saturday in each month at two p.m. was appointed as the regular meeting date.

RUSSIA'S LESSON AS — A RESULT OF WAR

A Huge Nation Without Industries—
How Would Canada Fare Under Similar Conditions?

"Country Life in Canada" of Windsor had a very interesting article in a recent issue entitled, "Nations, With and Without Industries." Russia was taken as a typical example of the nation without manufacturing development. The article calls attention to Russia's position when war was declared. Russia found herself cut off from the rest of Europe and America in great measure as far as supplies of manufactured goods were concerned. Russia could not export her vast stores of food products, nor secure in change for them manufactured goods, many of which were essential to the successful conduct of the war.

Result of Russia's Isolation

Food remained cheap but imported commodities became dear. The importation of manufactured goods ceased; stock in stores perished and less important commodities became dearer. Germany before the war, exported to Russia firearms, quantities of machinery, stoves, and electrically prepared materials. Nearly all drugs came from Germany, so a drug famine existed in Russia. Boots made in Vienna, and hats and costumes from Paris disappeared. Russian society helms—among the best dressed in Europe—have been, and will be, without fashions. In this regard the upper and middle classes of Russia feel the pinch of war, because luxuries are abolished. The poor, however, had only a demand for food—and food was both plentiful and cheap. The peasant farmer was better off, especially since he no longer could waste what money he had on vodka and beer. Economic and solitary conserve the wealth of nations.

Russian General's Views

A Russian general stood with his staff on a hill in Poland. The Russians were fighting one of their dead hand-to-hand actions, falling back on a line of new defences. Impetuously the soldier raised his hand and shook it at the advancing German hordes. "Oh, for the machine shops of other lands," cried he, "for their looms and factories. Then we'd fire shell for snail, and our soldiers would have an equipment to face the best in the world!"

If Canada Were Embellished

What if Canada had enemies on her southern frontier, and part of the prairie provinces in their hands. To the north, the uninvincible Arctic on the west the Pacific Coast blockaded by enemy warships. Halifax (being bombarded), enemy troops overrunning Nova Scotia, and warships smashing their way up the St. Lawrence. It is not a pretty picture, and, but for the grace of God and the British Empire, we might be to-day as Russia is.

Could Canada take care of herself in an economic sense? We know that Russia has cheaper food as a result of the war, but even now Canada imports eggs, butter and other produce that now puts the home market in Russia. What would it avail us if our wheat vanished in storage as in Russia's in her Black Sea ports?

Yet, in other ways, Canada is infinitely better prepared as a self-sufficient country than is Russia. In ratio to population our factory production swamps that of Russia. We even produce the luxuries the upper class of Russia lack owing to the war. Via manufacture boots, and our soldiers are well equipped with Canadian-made clothing. We have the machine shops—the looms—that the enormous Russian general begged for. We have, in fact, gone a good way down the road that proves a nation to be industrially organized. Economically we have as great recuperative powers financially as has Russia—if only we conserve them. Our position is a desirable one that of Russia—but Russia never suffered from a famine of food speculation. Her cultivation has increased owing to the paucity of the seed system and emigration; her farmers did not leave the land to become real estate or to be sold as slaves. Russia has unequalled natural resources to-day—but no industries in ratio to her population. There is an obvious lesson in all this. Build up these industries. Fortunately Canada has endeavored to do so.

PROTECTION IN AUSTRALIA

Grain Growers' Secretary Explains
Nexus With Australian Organizer

A recent issue of the "Grain Growers' Guide" contained an interesting letter from the General Secretary of the Farmers and Settlers Association of New South Wales. Apparently co-operative organization among farmers is making big strides in the Australian continent. After reviewing the organized features of the farmers' organizations, particularly with respect to the dairy industry, the Secretary's letter has a paragraph bearing on the much vexed tariff question. Judging from the Secretary's views on this subject the policy of protection does not agitate the farmers locally as much in Australia as it has in the Canadian West during recent years. While the organized farmers in Australia are somewhat opposed to protection, their opposition is by no means shared by the majority of the agricultural producers, as is evident from the following extract from the Secretary's letter:

"As regards the feeling among Australia producers the position is decidedly mixed, and it will probably surprise you to learn that the majority support the Protectionist policy."

Organized effort has resulted in the creation of a certain amount of hostility towards the policy of a reasonable encouragement for Canadian manufacturing industries in this country, but it is doubtful whether the majority of the farmers in the West are much more against protection than their fellow-farmers of Australia.

Queen Victoria's Doll

When Queen Victoria was a little girl she dearly loved dolls. She had 132 in all—dancing girls, kings and ladies, babies and maids. Each one dressed in garments that fitted its very own self. Such fine stuffs as she took, too. Daisy pocket handkerchiefs, a half-gig square, she embroidered with initials, and drew the threads in the borders; silk and satin robes with long, graceful trains; caps and bonnets in the fashion of the day. Most wonderful of all was the way she finished off the tiny pockets on the linings of aprons. Many of these dolls are still preserved in the museum, where you may see them when you go to London.

STOCK INSPECTION

The new Stock Inspection Act requires that when livestock is offered for shipment to a point outside of the Province, the same must be inspected for brands, and the shipper must attach to the brand that is on the animal or he must have a Memorandum of Sale signed by such owner. If the animal is unbranded, the seller must state in his Memorandum how he acquired the animal that is offered for shipment.

All animals sold at a sale yard or exchange table, stock yard or abattoir must be inspected before payment therefor is made, as much also animals sold on a farm or at the private stables of the seller, unless they have been on the premises for at least thirty days.

If a farmer raises a horse or cow and sells it at the farm, no inspection is required. If he brings it to town and sells it, it must be inspected because it has not been on the premises where sold for thirty days.

A resident in a town or city owns a horse and keeps it in his own private stable, he may, if he has owned it for more than thirty days, sell it without inspection. If he keeps it in a livery and sale stable, or if he takes the animal there to be sold, it must be inspected for brands, the proof of ownership must be established before it can be taken away or payment therefor accepted.

Irrigation Association Exhibition

Of particular interest to intending exhibitors at the forthcoming Exhibition of soil products to be held by the Western Canada Irrigation Association at Edmonton, November 23 to 25 next is the announcement by the secretary that the Canadian Pacific Railway has agreed to carry all exhibits to that exhibition by freight free, between the dates of November 10 and 22 inclusive. Exhibits which exhibitors wish to be returned to point of shipment at the close of the exhibition do not come under this special free freight tariff, but would ship under tariff W-20, which provides for the free return to original shipping point within ten days after the close of the exhibition, on all exhibits for agricultural fairs or exhibitions. Agents at all stations will be advised to accept shipments on these bases from points in the Irrigation Block, Lethbridge district, Calgary district, Maple Creek district, Edmonton Valley, Kamloops, Arrow Lakes, and Kootenay districts of British Columbia.
